Abigail's Backyard Adventure: Dena Clauss Dena Clauss
This book tells a story of a little girl who was born with Tibial Hemimelia, where the tibias were missing from her knees down; she had to undergo a double amputation. She was fitted with two “new legs”. These prosthetic legs allowed her to do what other children could do and has given her the confidence to try new activities and believe that she is able to accomplish them. This story is about the power of encouragement and hope, encouragement to try and hope that all of our children, with or without limb differences will live normal lives, no matter what challenges they may face. This book also contains a wonderful resource section for the parents or caregivers of children with limb differences.
