A Magic Skeleton Book: Under the Sea (Magic Color Books) Sarah Fabiny
Get to the bottom of what’s at the bottom of the sea. When children accompany Mr. Baker’s science class to the aquarium, they’ll meet and find out all about a variety of fascinating underwater life. A simple pull of the tab reveals the skeletons of such ocean creatures as the spiny, stinging lionfish; the giant 8-foot-long, 1,500-pound sea turtle; and the manta ray, which looks like a huge blanket gliding through the water. There’s even an amazing killer whale in the final exhibit. Every one of these incredible marine animals is a sight to behold.
